ABSTRACT

The profiles, tables, and narrative materials in this report were prepared to consolidate essential information about the constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina into one publication for use by school counselors, students, and their parents. This report contains information previously provided in "Institutional Profiles" and "Educational Opportunities" by the University of North Carolina. The University is a multicampus university composed of 16 public senior institutions of higher education. These profiles present general institutional information and a comprehensive inventory of educational opportunities at each of the 16 campuses. Each profile contains: (1) a brief description; (2) the academic calendar; (3) a student services description; (4) estimated annual student costs; (5) a history of the campus; (6) a description of the location; (7) notes on student financial aid; (8) a freshman class profile; (9) a list of bachelor's degree programs offered; (10) admission information; (11) information on advanced placement; (12) rates of retention, graduation, and persistence; and (13) the number of full-time faculty. Nine appendixes contain charts of advanced placement accepted at the various schools, the minimum score required for advanced placement credit, tables describing freshman class characteristics, and other information about students at the different campuses. THE UNIVERSITY

The University of North Carolina is a multicampus university composed of the 16 public senior institutions of higher education in North Carolina. The campuses, located across the state (see enclosed map), are characterized by diversity. Each is unique in program offerings, admission requirements, student body make-up, campus life, and historical background. This brochure presents general institutional information and a comprehensive inventory of educational opportunities at the 16 institutions. It is intended to help prospective students choose the institution with the educational program best suited to their needs and interests.

EQUALITY OF OPPORTUNITY

The University of North Carolina and all of its constituent institutions are committed to equality of opportunity. There shall be no discrimination within the University against applicants, students, or employees on the basis of race, color, religion, gender, age, disability, or national origin, consistent with provisions of applicable state and federal law.

PROMOTING RACIAL INTEGRATION

The University of North Carolina actively seeks to promote racial integration at each of its constituent institutions.

Dear Counselor:

You will find enclosed the 2000-2001 edition of the Institutional Profiles, University of North Carolina. As you know, this report was first recommended by an ad hoc committee of high school counselors convened in the summer of 1992. It is a single source of much of the information used by counselors and students in their consideration of UNC institutions, and has grown through the years in its content and value. And, for the first time, Educational Opportunities has been combined with Institutional Profiles to provide a single publication for your convenience.

This year we call your attention to new information about The University's Minimum Course Requirements for admission: http://www.ga.unc.edu/student_info/hucr.html, and a new web-based state-wide guidance system called North Carolina Mentor (www.NCMentor.org), a product of the new PATHWAYS program.

Statewide distribution of the Institutional Profiles, as in previous years, includes:

- fifteen (15) copies per high school - one per counselor, with the remaining copies for the library or other school offices; and
- five (5) copies per transfer counselor at each college and university in the state.

A limited number of extra copies of the Institutional Profiles may be obtained by contacting Dr. Robert Kanoy's assistant, Ms. Thelma Paylor, at (919)-843-6963.

Institutional Profiles is available on the web at:

<http://www.northcarolina.edu/pres/publications/publications.cfm>, and additional information for prospective undergraduate students can be found at: <http://www.northcarolina.edu/prospectivestudents.cfm>.

Administrators, counselors, and prospective students should find the information at these sites very helpful.

Gratified by the positive responses to Profiles, I will continue to welcome your comments and suggestions for improvements. I wish to thank you and your colleagues for the important work you do in helping students to achieve their full academic potential.

Sincerely,

Molly Corbett Broad

Introduction

The profiles, tables, and narrative materials in this document were prepared in response to suggestions from school counselors and university staff. Their purpose is to consolidate essential information about the constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina into one publication for use by school counselors, students, and their parents.

The information contained in this document is not exhaustive. The task of providing complete information about academic programs, college costs, and campus life properly remains with each individual campus and we invite you to write or visit campus admissions offices as your interests dictate. The information in this document is provided to introduce students and their parents to each campus and to facilitate comparisons among campuses on measures of special importance to prospective college students.

New this year is NC Mentor, the official web site of the North Carolina PATHWAYS program (www.NCMentor.org). Using N C Mentor, students can explore their career interests, search the educational programs offered across the campuses, and learn how to pay for college. In addition, online applications for all 16 campuses are available through N C Mentor.

Institutional Profiles is produced once annually in the fall and distributed to high school counselors and transfer counselors in North Carolina. Suggestions for improvement or changes in distribution should be forwarded to:

Note: The data in these profiles are as current as our data collection schedules permit; no estimates or projections are provided for future years. This is because campus policies are always subject to change due to changes in state and federal laws, regulations, and funding levels, and of course, to the campus governance process itself. These changes are seldom large, however, and rarely affect essential differences among the campuses.

Minimum Course Requirements for Undergraduate Admission to UNC Institutions

Individual constituent institutions may require other courses in addition to the minimum requirements. For some transfer students and students who graduated from high school prior to 1990, special considerations have been made.

Effective until Fall 2004

Four course units¹ in English emphasizing grammar, composition, and literature, and

Three course units of mathematics, in any of the following combinations:

- algebra I and II, and geometry,
- algebra I and II, and one unit beyond algebra II, or
- integrated math I, II, and III.

It is recommended that prospective students take a mathematics course unit in the twelfth grade.

Three course units in science, including

- at least one unit in a life or biological science (for example, biology),
- at least one unit in physical science (for example, physical science, chemistry, physics), and
- at least one laboratory course.

Two course units in social studies, including one unit in U.S. history, but an applicant who does not have the unit in U.S. history may be admitted on the condition that at least three semester hours in that subject will be passed by the end of the sophomore year.

Effective in Fall 2004 and Fall 2005

Six course units in language, including

- four units in English emphasizing grammar, composition, and literature, and
- two units of a language other than English.

Three course units of mathematics, in any of the following combinations:

- algebra I and II, and geometry,
- algebra I and II, and one unit beyond algebra II, or
- integrated math I, II, and III.

It is recommended that prospective students take a mathematics course unit in the twelfth grade.

Three course units in science, including

- at least one unit in a life or biological science (for example, biology),
- at least one unit in physical science (for example, physical science, chemistry, physics), and
- at least one laboratory course.

Two course units in social studies, including one unit in U.S. history, but an applicant who does not have the unit in U.S. history may be admitted on the condition that at least three semester hours in that subject will be passed by the end of the sophomore year.

Effective in Fall 2006

Six course units in language, including

- four units in English emphasizing grammar, composition, and literature, and
- two units of a language other than English.

Four course units of mathematics, in any of the following combinations:

- algebra I and II, geometry, and one unit beyond algebra II,
- algebra I and II, and two units beyond algebra II, or
- integrated math I, II, and III, and one unit beyond integrated math III.

(The fourth unit of math affects applicants to all institutions except the North Carolina School of the Arts.) It is recommended that prospective students take a mathematics course unit in the twelfth grade.

Three course units in science, including

- at least one unit in a life or biological science (for example, biology),
- at least one unit in physical science (for example, physical science, chemistry, physics), and
- at least one laboratory course.

Two course units in social studies, including one unit in U.S. history, but an applicant who does not have the unit in U.S. history may be admitted on the condition that at least three semester hours in that subject will be passed by the end of the sophomore year.

¹ Course units as defined in these requirements may include those high school-level courses taken and passed by an applicant after graduating from high school, as well as those taken while enrolled as a high school student. For some transfer students and students who graduated from high school prior to 1990, special considerations have been made.

Notes and Explanations

Please be aware of the following as you study and use the institutional profiles of the University of North Carolina.

- The abbreviations of the 16 campuses of the University of North Carolina used in this publication are as follows:

ASU	Appalachian State University	UNC-A	University of N.C. at Asheville
ECU	East Carolina University	UNC-CH	University of N.C. at Chapel Hill
ECSU	Elizabeth City State University	UNC-C	University of N.C. at Charlotte
FSU	Fayetteville State University	UNC-G	University of N.C. at Greensboro
NCA&T	N.C. Agricultural and Technical State University	UNC-P	University of N.C. at Pembroke
NCCU	N.C. Central University	UNC-W	University of N.C. at Wilmington
NCSA	N.C. School of the Arts	WCU	Western Carolina University
NCSU	N.C. State University	WSSU	Winston-Salem State University

- Data in the institutional profiles reflect what was current when taken to press, and may be subject to change over the course of the year.
- Admissions criteria include factors other than high school rank and SAT scores, and may vary from institution to institution.
- High school class rank and SAT score profiles are based on enrolled first-time freshmen who had both sets of data at the time of their admission. Some non-traditional students may not be represented in these profiles.
- The retention rate is based on the first-time full-time freshmen entering each institution in the fall of 1998 and returning to the same institution for their sophomore year in the fall of 1999. Graduation and persistence rates are based on fall 1993 first-time full-time freshmen. Graduation rates show the percentage of these freshmen who have graduated from their original institution after 4, 5, and 6 years; persistence rates show the percentage who have either graduated or are still enrolled at their original institution after 4, 5, and 6 years.
- The estimated annual student cost includes estimates for a regular nine-month college year. Estimates for summer attendance are not included.
- Advanced Placement (AP) credit information is shown in abbreviated form. Institutional policies represent final authority.
- The General Administration of the University of North Carolina uses a slightly different system for classifying majors than the individual institutions may use in their publications. A more complete breakdown is shown in the Academic Program Inventory, a copy of which is distributed to high school counselors every even-numbered year. A copy of the institution's catalog may provide valuable assistance in interpreting abbreviations.
- The titles for persons shown as directors of student financial aid and directors of admissions are generic. Exact titles may vary from one institution to another. Correspondence addressed as shown will reach the proper person.

NORTH CAROLINA CENTRAL UNIVERSITY

<http://www.nccu.edu/>

Brief Description

This comprehensive university offers undergraduate and graduate programs leading to the baccalaureate and master's degrees in its College of Arts and Sciences, the Schools of Business and Education, as well as the first professional degrees in the Schools of Law and Library Sciences. The Graduate School coordinates graduate admissions and enrollment, and the University College coordinates Summer School, Extension, Distant Learning, and Non-Degree Credit programs. Continuing its commitment to equal opportunity, North Carolina Central University (NCCU) vigorously recruits, and strives to enroll a larger number of white and other minority students.

History

Founded by Dr. James E. Shepard in 1909 and chartered as the National Religious Training School and Chautauqua (for "Meeting Place") to train community leaders. It operated as a private, non-sectarian institution from 1910 until 1923 when it became the state-supported Durham Normal School. In 1925, it became the nation's first state-supported liberal arts college for black people and was accredited as an "A" class institution in 1937. Renamed North Carolina Central University in 1969 and merged into the University of North Carolina in 1972.

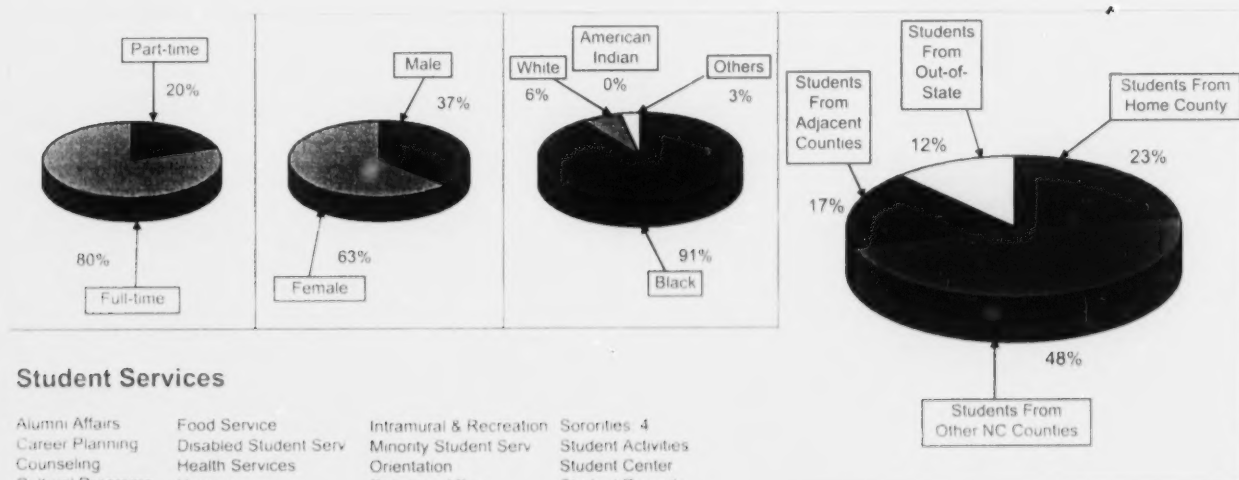

Location

Durham is one of the three cities anchoring the internationally renowned Research Triangle Park. More than 172,000 residents live in the city, with its highly diversified economy. Highlights of Durham economy include medical innovation and high technology.

NORTH CAROLINA SCHOOL OF THE ARTS

<http://www.ncarts.edu/>

Brief Description

The North Carolina School of the Arts trains exceptionally talented students at the college and high school levels for professional careers in the performing arts. Students are admitted by audition to the Schools of Dance, Design & Production, Drama, Filmmaking, and Music. They receive professional instruction from artist-faculty chosen for their excellence and professional standing in their fields. The association of gifted students and artist-teachers creates a diverse and challenging environment for study and performance. The arts and academic curricula culminate in a high school diploma with arts concentration in dance, drama, music, and visual art; the arts diploma at the college level in dance, design & production, drama, and music; baccalaureate degrees in dance, design & production, drama, film, and music; and master's degrees in design & production and music. North Carolina School of the Arts is committed to equality of educational opportunity. To further racial integration, the institution actively seeks to recruit and enroll a greater number of black students.

History

Established by the 1963 General Assembly as a residential public institution for training in the performing arts. Merged into the University of North Carolina in 1972.

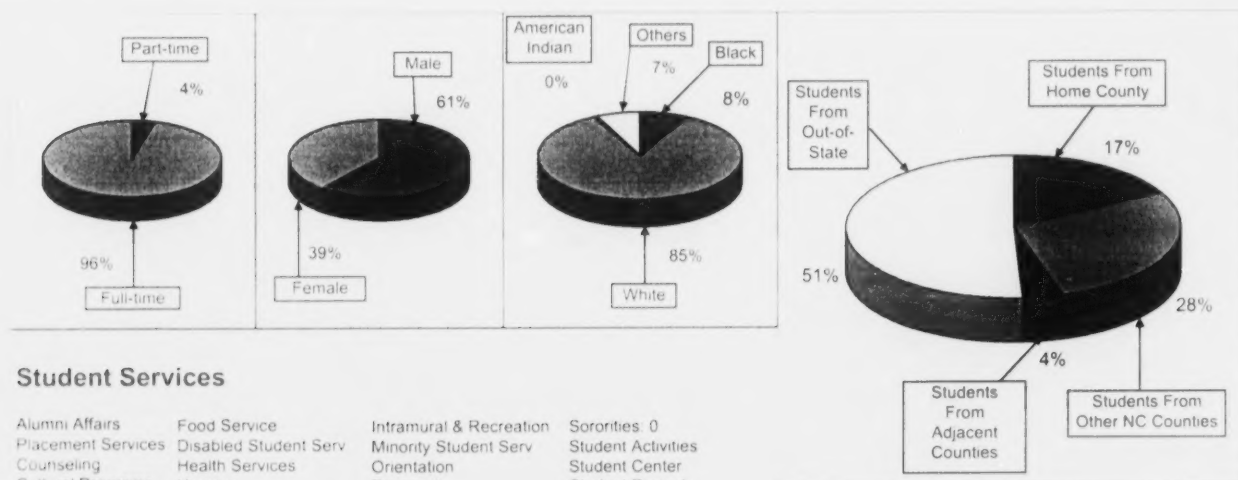

Location

Winston-Salem, (population: 161,000) an industrial city nationally recognized for its support of the arts.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT ASHEVILLE

<http://www.unca.edu/>

Brief Description

The University of North Carolina at Asheville is an undergraduate liberal arts institution primarily offering the baccalaureate degree, but does offer an interdisciplinary Master of Liberal Arts degree. The University has earned national recognition for its model Humanities Program -- a four-course sequence that has been required of all UNCA students for more than a quarter of a century -- and its leadership role in the field of undergraduate research in all disciplines. The University of North Carolina at Asheville is committed to equality of educational opportunity. The University is open to people of all races and actively seeks to promote racial integration by recruiting and enrolling a diverse student body.

History

Founded in 1927 as Buncombe County Junior College, became Asheville-Biltmore College in 1936. In 1963, the college became part of the statewide system of higher education. The institution became the University of North Carolina at Asheville in 1969 and was designated a public liberal arts institution within the University of North Carolina in 1992.

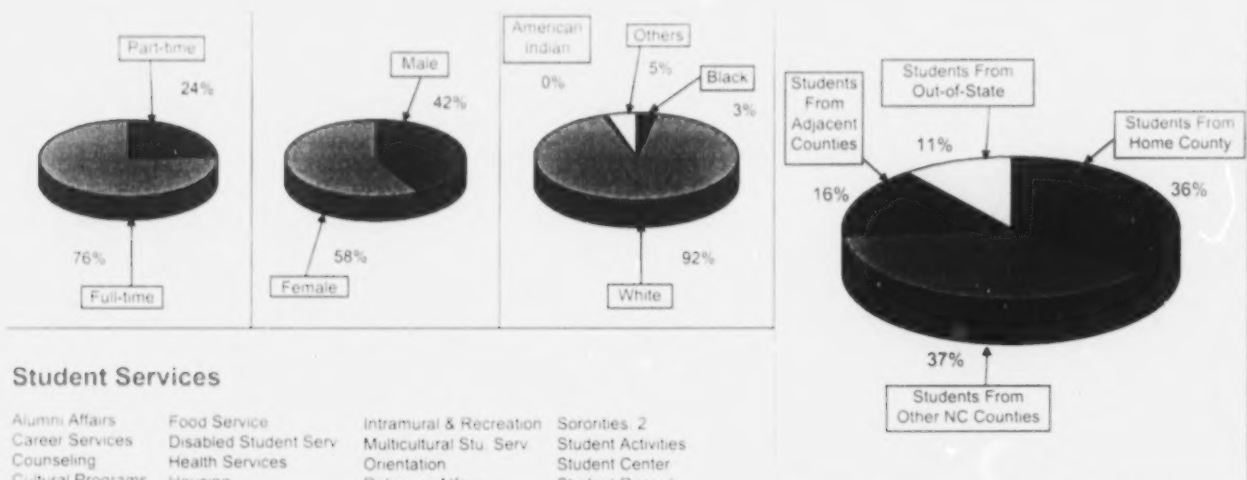

Location

With a city-county population of 180,000, Asheville is the urban center of commerce, culture and tourism in Western North Carolina. Set in the heart of the Blue Ridge and Great Smoky Mountains and surrounded by the largest concentration of national forests on the East Coast, Asheville has been named one of America's "most livable cities" in Rand McNally's "Places Rated Almanac." The UNCA campus occupies 265 wooded acres about one mile from downtown Asheville.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHAPEL HILL

<http://www.unc.edu/>

Brief Description

A major research university offering programs at the baccalaureate, master's, intermediate, first professional, and doctoral levels. It is the state's principal center of graduate education and research at the doctoral levels (except for certain areas assigned to North Carolina State University and the University of North Carolina at Greensboro). Its instructional programs are offered through two divisions. The division of academic affairs consists of eight colleges and schools. The division of health affairs includes five schools. There are 34 centers, institutes, and multidisciplinary programs. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is committed to equality of opportunity. To further diversity, the University actively seeks to recruit and enroll a greater number of students of color.

History

Chartered in 1789. First state university in North America to admit students (1795). Merged with North Carolina College for Women at Greensboro and North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering at Raleigh to form a multicampus institution designated the University of North Carolina in 1931.

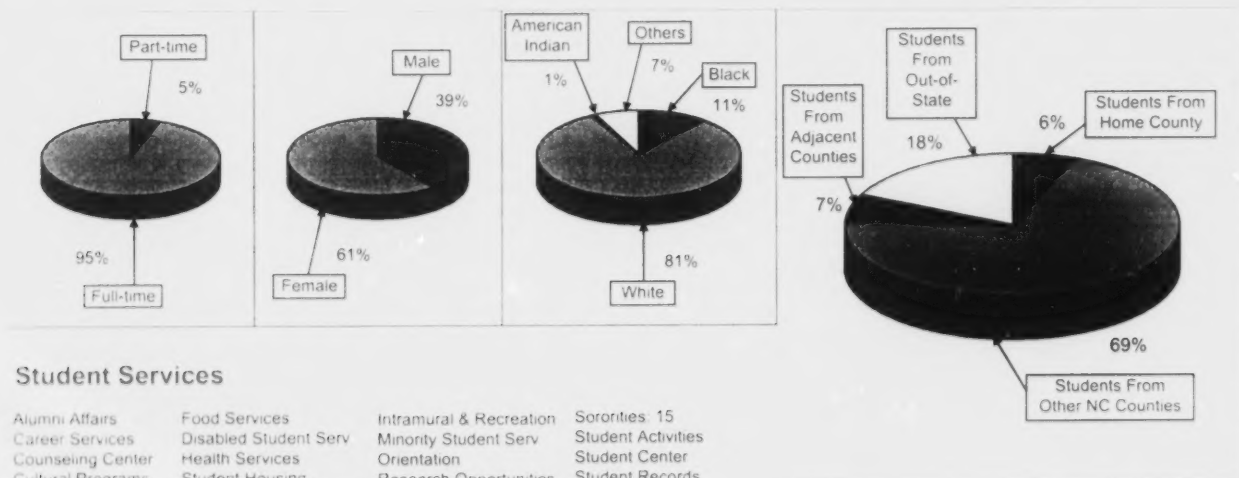

Location

Chapel Hill, (population: 38,719) a beautiful college town in the center of North Carolina near the Research Triangle Park. A three-hour drive to either the North Carolina coast or the mountains in the western part of the state.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHARLOTTE

<http://www.uncc.edu/>

Brief Description

UNC Charlotte comprises seven colleges (architecture; arts & sciences; business administration; engineering; education; information technology; and nursing and health professions). The University's graduate school conducts a broad array of programs leading to master's degrees and increasing opportunities for doctoral education. A comprehensive university offering programs at the baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral levels, UNC Charlotte has been recognized by Barron's 300 and U.S. News & World Report as an excellent comprehensive university. UNC Charlotte is committed to equality of opportunity. To further racial integration, the University actively seeks to recruit and enroll a greater number of black students.

History

Established as Charlotte Center of the University of North Carolina in 1946. Became Charlotte College, a two-year community college, in 1949 and a four-year, state-supported college in 1963. Merged into the University of North Carolina in 1965.

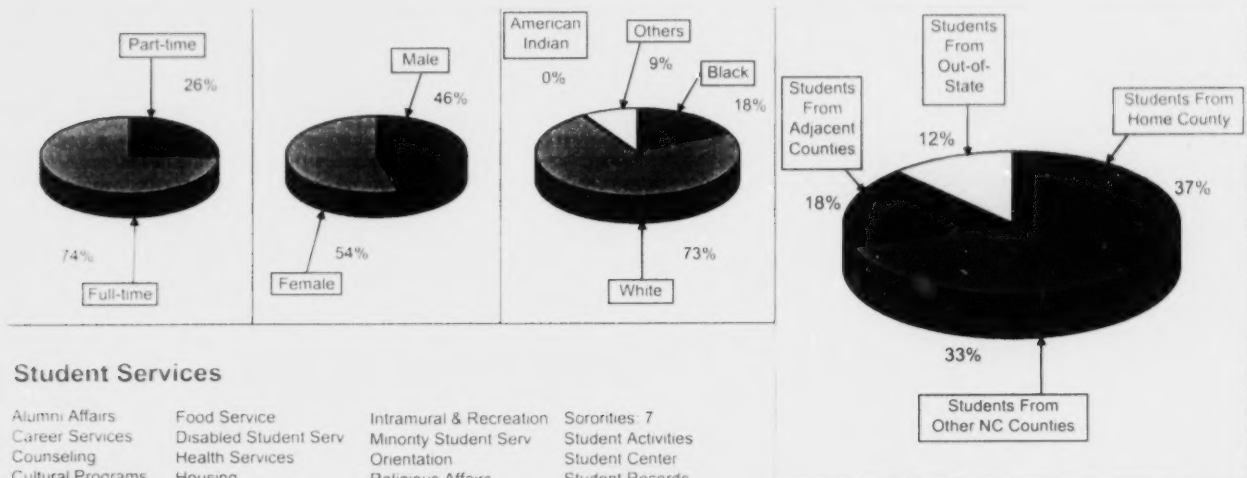

Location

Eight miles from uptown Charlotte, the largest city in the Carolinas with a metropolitan population of more than 1.1 million.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT PEMBROKE

<http://www.uncp.edu/>

Brief Description

A comprehensive university offering degree programs at the baccalaureate and master's levels. Its instructional programs are organized into a College of Arts and Sciences, a School of Business and Mass Communications, a School of Education, and a School of Graduate Studies. The University offers Master's Degree programs in several Education areas, Business Administration, Public Management, School Counseling, and Service Agency Counseling. UNC Pembroke is committed to equality of opportunity. To further racial integration, the University actively seeks to recruit and enroll a greater number of African-American and Native American students.

History

Founded in 1887 as a state school for the Indians of Robeson County, UNC Pembroke was originally known as the Croatan Normal School. The first college degrees were awarded in 1940, and the name was changed to Pembroke State College for Indians. That name was shortened to Pembroke State College a few years later. In 1969, the institution was granted University status, and in 1972 it became one of the 16 constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina. Pembroke State University became the University of North Carolina at Pembroke in 1996.

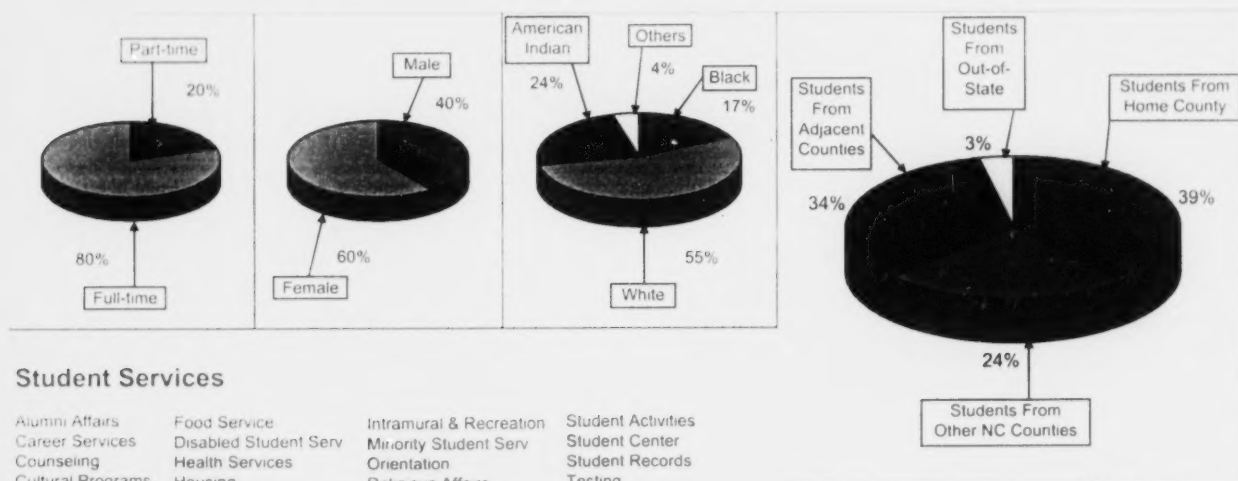

Location

Pembroke (population: 2,640), in the southeastern region of North Carolina, 1 1/2 hours from the Atlantic Ocean and 1 hour from Pinehurst. Pembroke is 30 minutes south of Fayetteville, a city of 81,118 population. The University is also near Interstate 95 and U.S. 74, major north-south and east-west arteries.

WESTERN CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

<http://www.wcu.edu/>

Brief Description

A comprehensive university offering programs at the baccalaureate, master's, intermediate, and doctoral (education) levels. Its instructional programs are organized in four undergraduate colleges (applied sciences, arts and sciences, business, and education and allied professions) and a graduate school. Offers resident-credit, undergraduate, and graduate-level courses and programs in Cherokee and Asheville. In Asheville, some of the undergraduate programs are offered in cooperation with the University of North Carolina at Asheville. Western Carolina University is committed to equality of opportunity. Western Carolina University is a College Sponsor of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

History

Founded in 1889 and chartered in 1891; became Cullowhee State Normal and Industrial School in 1905. Designated Western Carolina Teachers College in 1929. Renamed Western Carolina College in 1953 and designated a regional university in 1967. Merged into the University of North Carolina in 1972.

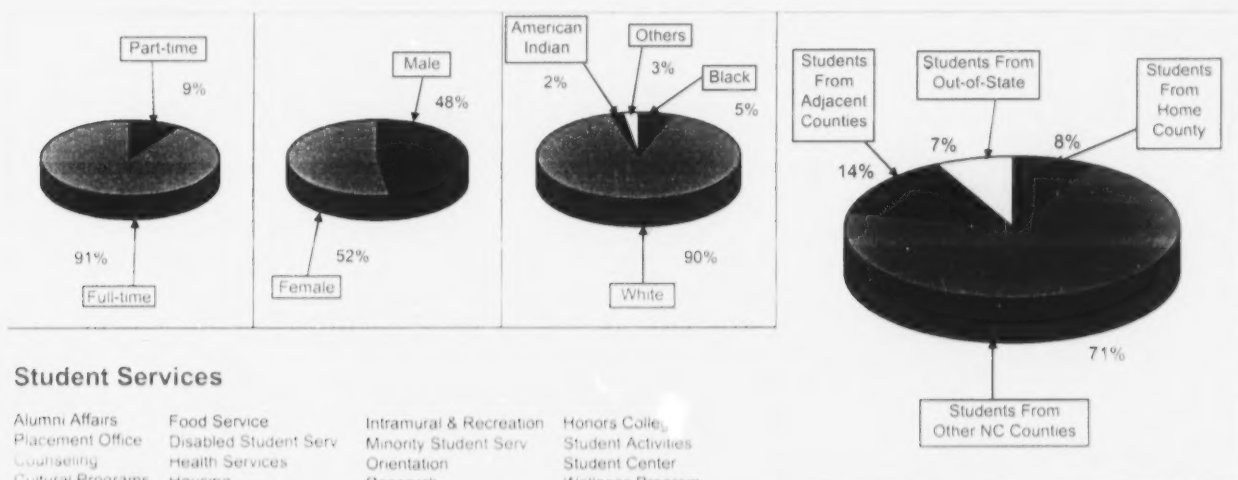

Location

Cullowhee (population: 6,500), located in a valley near the Blue Ridge and Great Smoky Mountains, 52 miles southwest of Asheville and 6 miles south of Sylva. Its setting at the southern end of Cullowhee Valley along the Tuckasegee River is unusually attractive.

Appendix F. What Students Need to Know about UNC Minimum Course Requirements

At its April 2000 meeting, the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina acted to phase in two increases in its minimum course requirements for undergraduate admission. The current requirements continue until fall 2004, when the first increase is phased in: 2 course units of a second language. Then, in fall 2006, the second increase goes into effect: a 4th unit of mathematics. (These requirements are detailed on p. ii.) Individual UNC institutions may require additional courses, as indicated in each institution's profile in this publication and at the PATHWAYS web site: NCMentor.org.

The implementation schedule for the new requirements means that students in grades 6-12 in the 2000-01 school year will face different course requirements when they are ready to seek university admission. The requirements that each class will have to meet are shown below:

Student's Grade in 2000-01	Anticipated Year of High School Graduation	Requirements for Undergraduate Admission to a UNC Institution
12	2000-01	As currently exist (see p. ii)
11	2001-02	As currently exist (see p. ii)
10	2002-03	As currently exist (see p. ii)
9	2003-04	Current plus 2 units of a second language
8	2004-05	Current plus 2 units of a second language
7	2005-06	Current plus 2 units of a second language and a 4 th unit of mathematics
6	2006-07	Current plus 2 units of a second language and a 4 th unit of mathematics

Thus, students currently in grades 10-12 in the 2000-01 school year (and entering a UNC institution before fall 2004) will not be affected by the increases. Students currently in grades 8 and 9 (and entering a UNC institution before fall 2006) will need to have completed two or more units of a second language. And students currently in grades 6 and 7 (and entering a UNC institution during fall 2006 or later) will need to have completed two or more units of a second language and a fourth unit of mathematics.

The Board took this action to ensure that freshmen have a strong chance of completing a baccalaureate degree. A study of 1997-98 North Carolina public high school seniors who enrolled at a UNC institution in the fall of 1998 found significant differences in performance among those students who met only the current minimum course requirements, those who met only the additional second language requirement, and those who met both the additional second language requirement and the additional fourth unit of mathematics requirement. Here is a summary of the study's findings:

Courses Taken	Freshman-to-Sophomore Retention Rate	First-Year Grade Point Average	Placement in Remedial English or Mathematics
Only those currently required	66.7%	1.71	42.7%
Those currently required plus 2 units of a second language	75.5%	1.96	31.6%
Those currently required plus 2 units of a second language and a 4 th unit of mathematics	81.8%	2.28	17.0%

Students who took more than two units of a second language or more than four units of mathematics performed even better. The study also revealed that 95 percent of the freshmen at UNC institutions had already completed two or more units of a second language, and 81 percent had already completed four or more units of mathematics. Thus, students who decide to meet the Board's fall 2004 or fall 2006 requirements before they are required to do so will take an important step in becoming more competitive when they enroll in college. They need not wait until requirements are in effect.

Freshman Applications for the Constituent Institutions of The University of North Carolina

All the constituent institutions of The University of North Carolina require the completion of the Minimum Course Requirements, as described on Page ii of this manual. Please note that some campuses may require additional courses above the minimum requirements.

The North Carolina PATHWAYS program provides online an application for all of the sixteen constituent campuses of The University of North Carolina including:

- Appalachian State University
- East Carolina University
- Elizabeth City State University
- Fayetteville State University
- North Carolina Agricultural & Technical State University
- North Carolina Central University
- North Carolina School of the Arts
- North Carolina State University
- University of North Carolina at Asheville
- University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
- University of North Carolina at Charlotte
- University of North Carolina at Greensboro
- University of North Carolina at Pembroke
- University of North Carolina at Wilmington
- Western Carolina University
- Winston-Salem State University

The applications for each of the campuses can be found within the North Carolina PATHWAYS web site on NC Mentor at <https://secure.ncmentor.org/Online/>. Instructions for completing and submitting an application are provided in detail on the web site.
